STATEMENT OF ASSOCIATED BANKS. Lonns, Deposits and Reserve Re-quired Show Becrease.

quired Show Becrease.

New York, July 19.—The weekly statement of averages of the Associated Banks shows:

Loais, 200, 257,00; decrease, $1,48,99.

Deposits, 540,625,90; decrease, $1,48,99.

Deposits, 540,625,90; decrease, $1,50,100.

Chreulation, $1,50,200; increase, $1,40,100.

Reserve, $17,512,800; increase, $1,40,100.

Reserve, $15,58,2,200; increase, $1,40,100.

Number of the New York Associated Ranks has week showed a gain of $1,56,100 in cash, of which $1,501,500 coms seed of species and $14,400 in all tenders. The estimated increase, based on the traceable movement of nicrease, based on the traceable movement of increase, based on the traceable movement of the discrepancy of $1,40,000 between the official and the estimated gain was poutably due to the average system, the largest payments to the banks on Subfressury operations having be n made at the end of the week. The loans decreased $1,48,500, indicating a mornal basiness by the banks for the week. The deposits fell of $1,565,100, whereas, defacting from the loans of loans the gain in cash, there should have been thanks on the property of the seconds.

by the banks for the week. The deposits fell of $1,26,160, whereas, deducting from the loss of learns the gain in cash, there should have been a decrease of 750,500 in deposits. Therefore, the statement is technically out of preed.

The required reserve was reduced $35,757 through the above-mosted decrease in deposits; this sum added to the gain in cash makes $3,482,375 increase in surplus reserve, which liem now is $15,452,75, against $15,697,275 at the corresponding day a year ago. If there shall be no important demands in the pear future upon the banks from their correspondents for currency for cop purposes, and the New York multutions continue to gain cash through Subtreasury occurations, as now seems probable, further gains in each, and in surplus reserve may be reason ably locked for.

Microver, as is elsewhere noted, the season's outward movement of money for the crops will, it seems likely, be largely offset by the 22 cm. Just week's bank clearings averaged $30,90.00 daily, against $125,90,000 in the previous week. The changes in the tien of leans by individual banks last week showed that seven of the larger downtown institutions had a net decrease of $4,400,000.
